

To Whom It May Concern,

RE: Representation in England, Scotland, and Wales

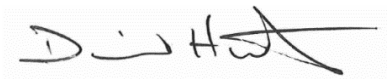

Date: April 30, 2021

Fox Thermal is pleased to announce the appointment of Process Instrument Sales Ltd. as our company's exclusive representative for England, Scotland, and Wales.

Process Instrument Sales Ltd. personnel have participated in Fox training programs involving flow measurement technologies, theory of operation, design considerations, instrument selection, installation, start up, and troubleshooting. They are supported by Fox Thermal factory application engineers, product specialists, and service engineers.

We believe this union of companies will produce the highest level of service and products to customers in England, Scotland, and Wales.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "D. Huntley", with a long horizontal stroke extending to the right.

David Huntley

Global Director of Sales
